

Two Point Perspective Rubric

1pt.

3pt.

5pt.

The artist struggled to create the illusion of space using the rules of two point perspective	The artist created the illusion of space using the rules of two point perspective, but there are errors that don't follow the rules of two point perspective. The drawing has building that overlap at different heights. The building have a few windows and doors.	The artist created the illusion of space using the rules of two point perspective (horizon line - two vanishing points - parallel vertical lines.) The drawing has building that overlap at different heights and are arranged in a unique manner. The building have windows and doors that are drawn in two point perspective.
The artist was unable to add an oversized or unexpected object.	The artist was able to add an unexpected object / Oversized object into the environment. The artist showed some effort to trace or draw their oversized element.	The artist was able to add an unexpected object / Oversized object into the environment. The artist showed advance effort to trace or draw their oversized element. The artist used value and live quality to finish off their object. There is more than one object
The artist was unable to add an environment.	The artist was able to add few objects to the environment.	The artist was able to add many objects to fill the environment, such as trees, billboards, sidewalks, people, animals, bicycles, etc. The environment tells a story or give hints to where this place might be.
The artist did not draw a 1" boarder.	The artist struggled to draw a 1" boarder with accurate measurements.	The artist was able to draw a 1" boarder with accurate measurements.
The artist was able to show no of effort to use all their time wisely.	The artist was able to show some of effort to use all their time wisely.	The artist was able to show a lot of effort to use all their time wisely.